DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 18 - 24, drawn to a method of improving shelf life of an edible product, classified in class 424, subclass 94.2, for example.
  - II. Claims 25 - 34, drawn to a starter culture, classified in class 424, subclass 93.45, for example.
  - III. Claims 35 - 36, 38 and 43 - 45, drawn to an isolated lactic acid bacteria, classified in class 424, subclass 234.1, for example.
  - IV. Claims 39 - 42, drawn to a DNA fragment, classified in class 424, subclass 780, for example.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions II, III, and IV and I:II, III and IV are related as product and process of use.

The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the method for enhancing growth rates of lactic acid bacteria could be practiced by adding butyric acid to the growth medium and the method for improving shelf life of edible products could be practiced with fenugreek extracts.

The inventions of the remaining groups, II:III, IV and III:IV are directed to different inventions which are not connected in design, operation, and/or effect. These inventions are independent since they are not disclosed as capable of use together, they have different modes of operation, they have different functions, and/or they have different effects. One would not have to practice the various methods and inventions at the same time to practice just one method alone.

The several inventions above are independent and distinct, each from the other. They have acquired a separate status in the art as a separate subject for inventive effect and require independent searches (as indicated by the different classification). The search for each of the above inventions is not co-extensive particularly with regard to the literature search. Further, a reference which would anticipate the invention of one group would not necessarily anticipate or even make obvious another group.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for one group is not required for the other groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1651

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
